

PLEASE EASE MY MIND

There's a lot of talk out on the streets
People say you weren't right by me
I spend a lot of time retracing your steps
More confused is all I ever get

Were you really playing pool with the gals
Did you see all those movie with old high school pals
Friday night prayers, well, that I can understand
But church on Sundays, is that also the plan

Baby, please ease my mind
Tell me you cheated or tell me you lied
Do it for the sake of the old times
But baby, please, please ease my mind

My moods still change with each drop of rain
But I no longer feel much sorrow or pain
I've moved on and gone on my way
And I don't feel the need for you everyday

But there are rumors that you've found someone new
I don't believe them but maybe they're true
It makes me think "that happened pretty quick"
Deep down inside, it just makes me feel sick

Baby, please ease my mind
You know you treated me unkind
Don't hand me one of your patented lines
But baby, please, please ease my mind

Instrumental

I'll be all right with the awful truth
It'll stop me acting like some dumb sleuth
I'll begin to hate you as I probably should Believe me darling, it will do a world of good

Baby, please ease my mind
Tell me you cheated or tell me you lied
Do it for the sake of the old times
But baby, please, please ease my mind
But baby, please, please ease my mind
But baby, please, please ease my mind
